

ZEISS LSM 710 out of order at the Bugnon campus UPDATED

Contributed by Yannick KREMPP
Friday, 17 October 2014
Last Updated Friday, 24 October 2014

Dear CIF Users, the ZEISS LSM 710 confocal at the Bugnon campus is out of order until further notice.

The faulty piece of hardware has been identified, and a replacement part has been ordered. The repair is scheduled for this end of next week at best.

If you have urgent needs of confocal microscopy at the Bugnon, we still have the Leica SP5 running, but know it will soon be dismantled and replaced by another Zeiss confocal. Another option is to check if the offer at the Dorigny or Epalinges campus could suit your needs until the repair has been done.

We apologize for the inconvenience.

 UPDATE ***

The repair has been scheduled for friday the 24th. The system should be back online on Monday.

 UPDATE ***

The system has been restored and is now fully operational again. You can now book it and use it again as usual.

The CIF Staff

